Who are the Friends of Madrona Marsh?

The Friends of Madrona Marsh is a non-profit, volunteer organization. Our goal is preservation, restoration and appropriate use of the Madrona Marsh Preserve. To accomplish these goals the Friends will pursue restoration and enhancement of the Preserve habitat, offer programs to educate the community about the natural history of the South Bay, maintain a volunteer program to provide docents and other volunteers to implement our policies. We will also conduct fundraising to provide financial support for the Preserve and Nature Center.

Restoration 2017

- The Friends Board continued to support the largest multi-year upland restoration project ever undertaken on the Preserve, spending $ 15,495 in 2017 and a total of $147,495 to date. Headed by Dan Portway, his team completed this year's effort of restoration and maintenance of local native plants. Dan and his team will be handling the Vernal Pools restoration in 2018.
- Tony Baker continues maintenance of the Native Plant and Water-Wise Garden outside the Nature Center. He also maintains and enhances the restored upland plants and a very large local native annual plant area inside the Preserve main entrance.
- The Propagation Society maintains our nursery year round, supplying both plants and seeds for our restoration efforts.

The work of these dedicated experts is stunningly apparent when you walk on the Preserve after the spring rains. It is a truly magical place.
